LATEST FIGURES GIVEN ON COUNTY'S REGISTRATION OF ELIGIBLES FOR DRAFT; PARTIAL LIST OF THOSE IN THIS AREA

Bristol District Has A Total of 3796 Registered; Langhorne District, 3394; Doylestown District, 2688; and Quakertown, 3249

The latest figures on Bucks county's total registration of men eligible for the draft is 13,127 as of today. District One, Bristol, has 3796; District Two, Langhorne, has 3394; District Three, Doylestown, has 2688; District Four, Quakertown, has 3249.

Doylestown's No. 1 draftee is David Watson Trauger, of 60 North Hamilton street, a student at West Chester State Teachers' College, whose father operates a barber shop at the county seat. The second Doylestown man drawn was Edwin Thomas Scarborough, a carpenter, married, with a family.

Among the early numbers drawn was one held by Theodore Kline, of Buckingham, a member of the Bucks County Bar practicing in Doylestown. Ervin R. Vanartsdalen, of Doylestown, a teacher in Harvard University, was the ninth Doylestown man drawn. Vanartsdalen's father is a law partner of District Attorney Edward G. Blester.

Private Frederick Henry Kohler, of the Doylestown sub-station of Pennsylvania Motor Police, who will be married Saturday, was the seventeenth Doylestown man drawn from the "fish bowl."

Twenty-two Doylestown men were drawn in the first 1700 capsules drawn from the bowl. There were 125 men in District Three (Doylestown headquarters) drawn in the 1700 capsules.

Order Speed-Up of Checking The 30,000 Trainees

By Griffing Bancroft, Jr.
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—With the great national draft lottery out of the way, Selective Service officials today ordered a general speed-up of checking, mailing and classifying in order to meet renewed army demands that 30,000 trainees be in uniform by Nov. 18 and 800,000 by June 15.

Under present plans men whose order numbers are well near the top of their local board lists may expect to receive mailed questionnaires early next week. These must be filled out and returned in five days, so the first men are expected to be classified by the end of the week. Army personnel officials, meanwhile, announced they were ready to start receiving volunteers under the selective service act immediately. They predicted that virtually all of the first 30,000 would be made up of volunteers and urged men who wished to "beat the gun" to report to their local boards as volunteers and be classified at once.

Draft officials, at the same time, estimated that any man whose number was drawn after the first 2,000 in the lottery could be "almost certain" that he would not be called this year.

Beyond that they refused to go—some predicting that, before next year's 500,000 trainees are called, an entire new lottery, including the 1,000,000 men who will become 21 in the interim and thus subject to the draft, may be held.

Details for the inclusion of these youngsters, however, have not yet been worked out. Some officials predicted they would merely be assigned unused numbers so that the relative standing of the 17,000,000 men already numbered would not be changed.

Willkie Says Roosevelt's Election Means War

En Route Camden, N. J., Oct. 31.—War was the penalty Wendell Willkie held up today to the voters of the United States if they re-elect President Roosevelt to another term of office.

No longer hinting, no longer citing "indispensable men who have led their countries down the road to war," Willkie made his flat, terse prophecy to a Baltimore audience last night.

"If you re-elect him you may expect war by April, 1941."

It was strong language, stronger even than it appeared in the Republican Presidential candidate's prepared text.

When he reached that portion of the text, he leaned forward and put this challenge:

"Mr. Third Term Candidate—Is your pledge about peace and acceptance of the Democratic platform more or less sacred than the pledge you made about sound money in 1932?"

After his Baltimore speech, Willkie returned to his train where he listened to President Roosevelt's third announced political speech and later issued a statement in which he challenged Mr. Roosevelt to answer issues of the campaign.

The candidate has six speeches scheduled today with the first in Wilmington, Del., a State in which he has not previously spoken. Then he goes to Chester, Pa., Trenton, N. J., Plainsboro, N. J., and Camden, N. J.

Italian Forces Advance

London, Oct. 31.—Italian forces in Greece are still registering advances but they are still operating in Greek outpost areas and no main Hellenic defense lines have yet been reached, according to latest advice in London today.

Fascist legions are driving against Philates on the Ionian sea coast from Konistolis, British quarters stated, and also are approaching the Kalamas River in northern Greece.

Meanwhile the London Daily Mail reported large detachments of British marines have landed on an island south of the island of Corfu.

A Moscow radio report picked up in London said that 18 British warships have arrived at Gibraltar apparently from the Atlantic. This report was not confirmed by London naval circles.

WILL START PROMPTLY

Watch Where You Park

The co-operation of the public is requested by the police tonight in keeping the route of the parade, as well as the streets on which the parade is to form, free of vehicles.

Chief Jones has issued orders that parking is to be prohibited on Pond street, from Jefferson avenue to Monroe street and on Farragut avenue, from Monroe street to Garfield street. Other streets where parking will not be allowed include Jefferson avenue from Pond street to Radcliffe, on Radcliffe from Jefferson avenue to Mill, on Mill from Radcliffe to Otter, and on Otter from Mill to Maple street.

The parade will form on streets leading into Farragut avenue, and parking will not be allowed on these streets from Wilson avenue to Farragut avenue.

Tonight is the night for Bristol's big Hallowe'en parade and indications point to a big affair. Many are of the opinion that it is going to be the largest event of its kind that Bristol has ever had. The parade is scheduled to start promptly at eight o'clock.

Police have posted regulations so that the parade will not interfere with general traffic. Corporal R. D. Evans.

NINE ATTAIN HONOR ROLL AS GUILD TOPS LAST YEAR'S FIGURE

Needlework Guild Workers Gather 3,710 Garments For Annual Meeting

MRS. CONNETT SPEAKS

Bryn Mawr President Tells of National Convention Sessions

With nine directors listed on the honor roll, and other directors and members extending their efforts, Bristol Branch of the Needlework Guild of America topped the figure of last year's ingathering, when at the 1940 exhibit and meeting yesterday in the community house, 3,710 new garments were listed. The figure for last year's exhibition was 3,446, the increase for the past 12 months being 264.

The Bristol Branch sewing department headed the list this year, with 402 articles of clothing, household linens, etc., followed closely by Edgely sewing department, with 402. Next in line was Mrs. Frederick Kring, who gathered for the guild 359 garments; then Mrs. Griffith L. Williams, with 315. The total appearing opposite the name of Mrs. Clifford L. Anderson is 251; and Mrs. Henry E. Ancker collected for the Guild 237 items. Two children were next on the list, Patricia Kring, of Buenos Aires, South America, having listed opposite her name, 134 garments; and "Billy" Gratz, 129. Mrs. James Lefferts, whose list totalled 101 items, knitted many caps herself.

The articles displayed on the tables about the rooms and also on lines, included this year's number of blankets, likewise warm undergarments, shoes and rubbers, dresses, children's play suits, girls skirts, boys' knickers and suits, baby layettes, etc. A large number of the articles were fashioned by

STEEL AS A BAROMETER

Observers are pointing out that it has long been axiomatic that when the steel industry was operating at capacity, America was prosperous. The steel industry in most centers is now operating at from 93 to 98 per cent of capacity. It will be at 100 per cent shortly, and the government is even now investigating the factory set-up to see whether there is enough mill capacity to satisfy all needs.

In a few months it is expected that private enterprise will be asked to minimize its steel requirements so there will be plenty for the defense program and expert requirements.

This creates an abnormal situation in which the old steel axiom may not apply fully. But it can not be doubted that it will still be applicable to an extent, and that the United States is headed for higher levels economically. The short term outlook is for a leveling off of industrial production for a few weeks while manufacturing gathers its resources for the big push, and that then America will move into record high ground.

That this will affect the entire country is to be seen from the universal expectation of higher farm prices.

But this prosperity, if it comes, will not be a normal prosperity. Many of its props can collapse almost without warning. For example, 42 per cent of this country's current exports consists of the munitions of war or related materials. Should that be cut off, much of American production would have no excuse for continuing, factory activity would subside and the chances of a substantial prosperity would go glimmering.

LABOR BOARD PETS

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has checked the identity of 2,600 persons reported by the House Committee on Un-American Activities as having entered German-American hand camps.

Names of those found to be working in munitions and armament plants and who are proved to have visited the camps "have been furnished their employers."

Patriotic and intelligent citizens of this country will be inclined to ask what is the use for the Federal Bureau of Investigation to be turning the names of these radicals over to employers in face of the ruling by the National Labor Relations Board that an employer cannot discriminate against an employee on the ground that he is a member of a subversive group.

This was the specific ruling in the case of the Douglas Aircraft Corporation. Convicted felons and communists had to be taken back. The company could only do its best to keep them out of key positions in an industry engaged in work of national defense.

It would be far more sensible for the FBI to check up on the crackpot National Labor Relations Board.

clation. Books, discounting the art of creative writing, travel well into the field of the fine arts through their illustrations. She stressed that the Art Guild stands ready to further any interest in art created through literature.

The monthly art exhibit in the Glenside Library, the work of Catharine Morris Wright, an Old York Road Art Guild member, further indicated a service with which the guild provides the community, namely, that of providing art exhibits.

The November 11th tea of the Guild will be a discussion of "How To Decorate A Home To Live In" by Mrs. Georganna P. Riegel, of Germantown.

This viewing of interior decoration from the homemaker's point of view will prove to be a meeting no one will care to miss. The walls of the Guild studio, southwest corner York Road and Greenwood avenue, Jenkintown, will display the paintings of Mrs. Alice C. Goodwin of Wyncote, and the pastel portraits of Miss Mary Burgess, of Chestnut Hill, Mrs. Stanley Samter, of Elkins Park, and Mrs. Joseph Rosenau, of Jenkintown, will be hostesses at the tea, which is called for 2.30 p. m.

British Stop German Air Raids

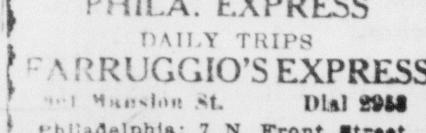

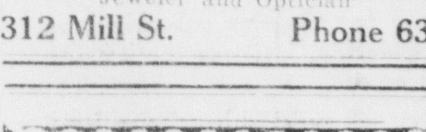

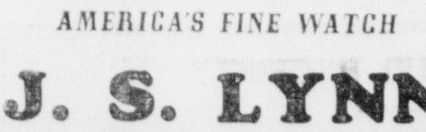

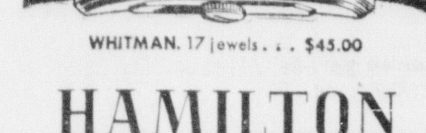

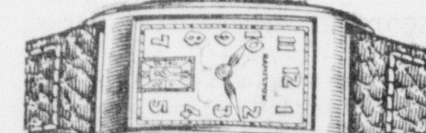

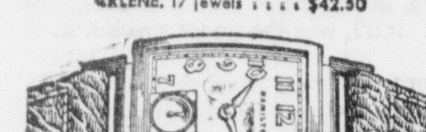

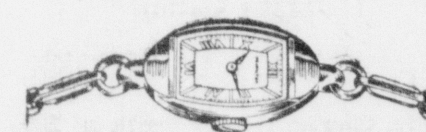

London, Oct. 31.—German air raids against Britain, save for one isolated attack in the southeast that killed and injured a number of persons, dwindled to a virtual standstill today.

An official communique announced: "There was little enemy air activity up to noon. A lone bomber attacked a town in southeast England, causing some damage. Nine enemy aircraft were destroyed yesterday."

German night raids on London and other British sectors were the lightest of the week. But while the Nazi assaults slackened, British bombers blasted wide areas of western Germany.

Birthdays, Anniversaries are important. At least once in a lifetime they should be marked with a Hamilton Watch. It's America's most sure-to-please watch.

Say Germans Beat Back British Speed Boats

Berlin, Oct. 31.—British speedboats, advancing under cover of heavy mists, were thrown back by German artillery in an attempt to reach the Flanders coast, the German high command reported today in a communique which told of new Nazi raids on England.

One of the British vessels probably was destroyed in the terrific barrage set up by Nazi naval guns, the statement said.

Ceaselessly hammering at England's vital war industries and communication lines, German bombers heavily damaged an aircraft factory and troop camps in the Midlands and western England.

Plans New Directory For Bristol Borough

Bristol is to have a City Directory in the near future. R. E. Carter, advance representative for the Calkin-Kelly Directory Co., of Binghamton, N. Y., is in town making preparations for publication.

"The alphabetical section of the directory will list all individuals over 18 years of age with their occupations and business connections. All businesses will be listed in the alphabetical section, giving corporation and co-partnership information.

"The business directory will classify all business."

"The householder's directory and street guide will list all houses and buildings in street numerical order indicating the head of the house or name of business opposite each number. The miscellaneous department will give township and county government information, also schools, churches, societies, lodges, etc.," states Mr. Carter.

Mr. Carter said that a personal house-to-house canvass will be made later this year at the most convenient time for local residents. He asked the co-operation of the public in supplying information necessary for the directory.

Seascope Ball To Be Held in Bensalem

William Burgess, Jr., of Morrisville, will make the presentation of the Long Cruise awards.

Guests will include officers from the Valley Forge Council and Council President Hon. Calvin S. Boyer. The Andalusia Seascope Ship "Wasp" is the host ship sponsoring the Ball; Harry Oliver, chairman of the Ship committee, and Skipper William G. Lange will be in charge of the arrangements.

The October meeting of the Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America, was held at the Doylestown Inn on Monday evening at 6:15, with Council President Calvin S. Boyer presiding. Treasurer J. P. Weiss, reporting on the sale of camp bonds, indicated that $23,000 of the $25,000 issue had been sold and that the balance had been subscribed. Finance chairman E. H. Lovett, reporting on the council's income and expenses for the year ending October 1, 1940, indicated that the Council had lived within the budget set up by the Board, with a slight balance. He further reported that $11,200 had been received in cash and pledges and that indications were very good that at least $2,000 more would be received.

The question of posting Camp Ockanickon, the council's year-round campsite, as a wild life sanctuary, was brought up and it was voted unanimously to post the property in this manner and prohibit gunning, hunting and trapping.

C. A. G. Pease, representative from the Quakertown area, made a fine report on the annual council meeting held at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, last May, and Hon. T. B. Stockham reported on the Regional meeting held in Roanoke, Virginia, earlier in October, stressing the fact that the Bucks County's success in holding older boys in the Senior Scouting program was receiving National attention.

members, while others were purchased by individuals, or through funds raised from benefit affairs. The Edgely sewing department's donation of 402 articles, included a number of pieces fashioned by the members, and others purchased through a large donation of money to the Bristol Branch. The Edgely sewing department of Bristol Branch is composed of those who formerly were members of Edgely Guild, which disbanded.

The memorial table was well filled also this year. The display was arranged for the 20th consecutive year by Mrs. Frederick King.

Mrs. Paul V. Forster, president, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Harold N. Connett, Haverford, president of Bryn Mawr Branch of the Guild, and likewise a member of the national board of directors of the Needlework Guild of America. Mrs. Connett brought a message of cheer to the Bristol workers, through her statement that branches are increasing numbers of garments this year, in spite of great demands from other sources. She told of the national convention of the guild, held this year in New Orleans, La.

The speaker, interested in Bristol's honor roll, gave it as her opinion that such honor rolls are a stimulation to greater effort, adding, however, that the small gifts are just as necessary and helpful as those from the larger directorships.

After mentioning her variety of activities in numerous charities in years past, with the resultant choice because of pressure of duties, Mrs. Connett stated she felt she had chosen wisely in confining her activities to Needlework Guild duties, "because in working for the guild, we aid all these charities." The guest speaker informed Bristolians that to date this year the guilds throughout America have donated over $6,000 to the American Red Cross, with which organization they are affiliated.

Another feature of the afternoon was the showing of a sound motion picture, by a representative of the Red Cross, this depicting all branches of work carried on by this "greatest of all mothers." Work during such disasters as war, famine, flood, fire, hurricane, as well as rehabilitation activities were included in the pictures, which were well received.

The guild president called upon Mrs. Henry E. Ancker, who for many years served as president of the local organization. Mrs. Ancker reminded the women present that "We can be such a power for good in this land if we all work together."

During the early part of the session the group paid silent tribute to the memories of Miss Martha Hughes and Mrs. Mitchell Ancker, who had served as guild directors for long periods of time.

Mrs. Harry Pope presented records of the last meetings and exhibit; and

There's no exaggeration in the talk you hear about the new bigness of Ford for '41! There's up to 7 inches greater seating width than ever before! Bigger windows and windshield use almost 4 square feet more of gleaming glass this year! Measurements for '41 show that no other leading low-price car can equal this for roominess... for interior length, door widths, front-seat headroom, front-seat legroom, rear-seat knee room! And with new size you'll discover a truly great new ride in this year's Ford. A softer, quieter, easier ride than you ever hoped to find at low price! Come in today. Get the facts. Come in today and get our "deal." Come in today and meet a really great new car!

Horse Show Will Benefit
Recreation-Community Center

A horse show for the benefit of the New Hope Recreation-Community Center will be held at The Horses, New Hope, Saturday, starting at noon. All receipts are being turned over to the proposed community project.

Welsh Strawbridge, of Hatboro, is acting as judge of the hunter, jumper and breeder classes. All those wishing to make entries for the show should phone or mail their applications to The Horses, New Hope, Pa., before 10 o'clock tonight.

There will be 12 classes comprising the show, which according to advance reports will be one of the largest ever to be held in the Delaware Valley. The classes are as follows: model hunter, open to any weight; thoroughbred mares, suitable to produce hunters; equitation for amateurs, consisting of walk, trot, canter, gallop and any maneuvers the judges may deem feasible to demonstrate horsemanship; hunters, in the ring; jumper sweepstakes in the ring; half-bred yearlings; working hunter; junior equitation for youths who have not attained their 19th birthday; junior working hunter; knock down and out, in the ring; sub-junior equitation for children under 15; and teams of three hunters.

On the executive committee for the Recreation Center are: Edwin Bair, Jr., Henry Chapin, Clyde Davis, Mrs. Laurie York Erskine, Donald A. Hedges, Mrs. Sol Jacobson, Robert Shaw, Mr. James Skillman, Sr., and Mrs. F. B. Williamson, Jr.

ON THE SCREENS

BRISTOL THEATRE

The Higgins family is in town again! "Earl of Puddleston," latest of their series, opened last night at the Bristol Theatre.

This is good news to local film audiences, especially those whose tastes in motion pictures run to hilarious and down-to-earth fun. For Mr. and Mrs. Higgins, their daughter Betty and their sons Sid and Junior, are one of the most widely loved of the celluloid families.

The Higgins series is unique in that a real Hollywood family portrays the roles of Joe and Lil Higgins and their son Sid. James and Lucille Gleason, and their son Russell are ideally cast in their roles.

RITZ THEATRE

"Wagons Westward," now at the Ritz Theatre, which was directed by Lew Landers, presents an all-star cast including Chester Morris, Anita Louise, Buck Jones, Ona Munson and George "Gabby" Hayes.

GRAND THEATRE

Not since "Min and Bill" has Wallace Beery figured in as comical a romance as has fallen to his lot in "Wyoming," drama of pioneer days, filmed on location at Jackson Hole, Wyoming, and coming today to the Grand Theatre. Beery plays a tough man who turns good. In a pioneer town he meets the lady blacksmith, played by Marjorie Main. Then ensues a romance with side-splitting details, such as his serenading her with his harmonica, her activities in helping him escape from jail, and other drooleries.

The picture is a vivid drama of pioneer days. In which Beery leads ranchers against raiding cattle rustlers, and General Custer and his cavalry rout a ranch attack by Blackfeet Indians.

Patriotic Play Presented
By Makefield Scholars

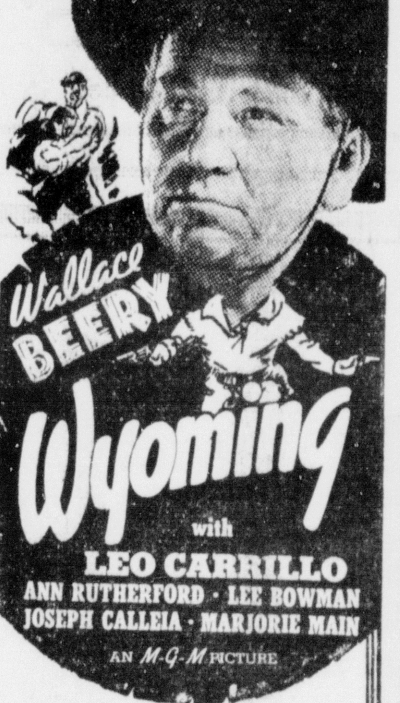

MAKEFIELD, Oct. 31—The sixth Fall program of Lower Makefield Township schools was presented in the school auditorium this week, featuring a patriotic play, "The Star-Spangled Banner" by the second grade, under direction of Miss Helen B. McCarthy. The school orchestra favored with selections.

The cast of characters included: Raynes Thropp, Herbert Conover, Eleanor Magid, Carol Briggs, Thomas Knowles, Joan Birchall, Robert Danzeisen, Russell Tomlinson, Richard Oliver, Charles Stewart, William Anderson, Leon Brady, Isabel Grundy, Dale Chesnut and Selma Leedom, Judy Leedom, Barbara Swanson, Alfred Szolack, Evelyn Eggleston, Thomas Loth, Ronald Lord, James Colson, Theodore Conrad, and other characters, Indians, Pilgrims and Friends of Lincoln.

ST. FRANCIS ELEVEN WINS AND LOSES ON GRID

EDDINGTON, Oct. 31—The underdogs rise up and pound their oppressors into submission, the favorites drop by the wayside, and the undefeated taste the bitter dregs of those who lose. Thus goes the story every week after the week's gridiron contests have been played and recorded.

And last week was no exception for the St. Francis eleven, which was overpowered by the Big Towering Red and Gold Merchantsville High School team. The college-size lads rolled over the little St. Francis gridders by the score of 26-0. The South Jersey boys can proudly boast the highest total scored on an Eddington team in many a moon.

Monday afternoon, Coach Harry Beehm's boys, anxious to erase the week-end stigma of defeat, met the Central High School Cubs of Philadelphia, on the Saints' campus.

The Bucks County boys were running on high. The 26-0 result was a top-heavy victory for the locals. The flagging gallantry and fiery determination of all players involved in the contest was superb. The blocking and tackling were breath-taking, not only to spectators but to adversaries.

The visitors were outmuscled 217 yards to 40; out-passed 9 to 5 for 95 yards to 40, and the Saints, vastly superior, scored in every period.

The St. Francis star combination of the fracas was outstanding fullback Kucharik and the fleet-footed halfback Dykes Curcio, who visited touchdown-land on two occasions.

The next team to be encountered by the Blue and Gold is the Bensalem Junior Varsity on the latter's field on Monday, November 4th.

LEAD OF PAPERMAKERS CUT IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Henry's boys cut the P. P. P. lead in the National League down as they took three points from the wrapper boys. "Prexy" Robinson's miss in the last frame cost his boys two of the three points they had as they only lost total by five pins. "Babe" Light was high for the league leaders with 553 while "Madison" Tosti led the V-8's with 551.

Wilson took three from Voltz to climb two points nearer the league leaders. "Novah" Boccardo was again high for the fuel men with 563 while two game Kryven led the barrel rollers with 589.

Auto Boys snatched three from the Oddies to retain their hold on fourth place while the Oddies again dropped down to fifth. Andy was high for the first period of votes. The votes will never be higher on both subscriptions and coupons than the period between now and November 5th. Contestants are urged to report every possible "Junior Popularity Vote" coupon and Courier subscription during this first period of the contest.

Oddies with 564 and Wichser's 573 was tops for the "Leon" gang.

Coffey's moved back into fifth place as they outrolled Leedom's gang to take three points. "Snits" Kysniak was high for the gas house gang with 575 as Kenyon led the tail enders with 497.

The next count, at eight p. m., Saturday, is very important. Extra bonus credits are being offered for the high subscription and vote coupon reports, as well as an extra cash award. In addition, the contest management announces that an undisclosed cash award will go to the contestant making the highest report on Saturday, who is today below fifth place on the Honor Roll. Here is an opportunity for some contestant to make extra cash and at the same time increase their position.

Many photos of the youngsters entered in the Election have been forwarded to the engravers, so that they may be reproduced in The Courier. As soon as they are returned, the contest management will immediately run the photos. If you have not had your youngster's photo taken by Mr. Nichols, the contest photographer, do so immediately, so that we may insert in The Courier as well as add to the display at contest headquarters.

Bensalem Student Receives Feature Award

On Friday and Saturday, October 25th and 26th, organizations of school papers of Pennsylvania sent delegates to Pittsburgh for the 15th annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Press Association. Bensalem high school had the opportunity of sending three delegates, Lester Engle and Jack Hamor, business managers of the Bensalemite, and Ellwood Rittenhouse, the editor.

The conference sponsored talks by outstanding newspaper reporters and correspondents. In addition, informal class groups were held in which problems presented by delegates were discussed.

Features of the convention were: trips to an industrial plant, visits to points of interest in Oakland, swimming, dancing, the closing banquet, a college football game, and a trip to the Buhl Planetarium.
